Summary

Winner of two races to date. Both of these came as a two year old - a maiden at Musselburgh and a quality nursery handicap at York which he won in a very good fashion.

He paid the price of these two year old successes as a three year old because he started off with quite a high handicap mark and as he finished second twice and third once that year the handicapper did not do him any favours and consequently he started his four year old career off a turf mark of 84. As a four year old he has struggled to get his ground most of the time and he is now down to a very promising handicap mark of 75.

He does tend to get a little excited in the stalls and can throw his chance in a race there but Bryan Smart has given him a long winter break to get him more chilled out for his turf campaign this year.

This is a horse that is well capable of winning this season and he could even be the type that once he gets his head in front again it will give him confidence and he can go on from there. An interesting prospect for 2009 and a perfect introduction to racing for new owners at a very affordable price.
